

The JÄGER Group, headquartered in Hanover, has been supplying high-quality components and subsystems made of rubber, plastic, metal and, more recently, basalt for over 80 years. Now in its third generation of family management, the group of companies is regarded as a qualified, globally active partner for mechanical and plant engineering, environmental and agricultural technology, energy technology and oil production. In order to meet the specific requirements of these very heterogeneous target groups, our activities are concentrated in specialized individual companies. Today, more than 1200 employees work for us worldwide at over 20 locations in Germany, Poland, the Netherlands, India, the USA, Canada and China. www.jaegergroup.com
